

Achieve Optimal Wellness

Energy4Life has identified that to achieve total wellness, there are 3 critical factors that need to be addressed:

- The energy that flows through the body.
- The information that is created, distributed and regulated within it.
- The physiology of the body.

As a result, we have developed the Bioenergetic Wellness System, which comprises a 3-step process:

- 1 Assess the human body-field with custom scanning software.
- 2 Imprint the information of the body's control system with Infoceuticals.
- 3 Rejuvenate and unblock energetic distortions with miHealth.

E4L Infoceuticals are a key component of the Bioenergetic Wellness System, and are used to re-imprint the body-field back to its optimal state, enhancing the strength of the body-field and regulating the flow of information. They help to remove distortions and blockages within the information structures and energy patterns of the body-field.

Following the discovery and mapping of the human body-field, Energy4Life has led the field of bioenergetics, supporting individuals worldwide by addressing issues with their health and wellbeing. The body-field represents the general state of your overall physical and emotional condition.

Distortions in this field can cause disharmony in your life. Corrections of these distortions support and encourage a more balanced, enjoyable and rich life experience.
